

MEIKEL GIVEN FEW HOURS IN WHICH TO LEAVE MAYSVILLE

Alleged Religious Fakir Is Dismissed and Given Short Time in Which to Settle His Affairs and Leave the City.

"General" Phillip Meikel, self-styled Home Mission Worker, who was arrested on the streets here a few days ago on a charge of begging and obtaining money under false pretense, was brought before Police Judge John L. Whitaker this morning and upon recommendation of City Prosecutor Daly and Chief of Police Harry A. Ort, the charge against him was filed away upon his promise to settle up his business affairs and leave the city within five hours.

Chief Ort is holding a skeleton key found on Meikel and his articles of incorporation which will be investigated. The authorities will be informed of the use Meikel has been making of the papers to obtain money from the public for his own private use.

Meikel was not tried until John Roach, the eleven year old boy with him, had left Maysville with his mother en route to the mother's home at Detroit, Mich.

Meikel, who purchased a house boat with a part of the money he had begged on the streets, was quite a busy man this morning closing up his business affairs. He disposed of the boat and will leave Maysville this afternoon for Cincinnati where he says he can obtain employment. Meikel contends that he has acted on the square in every city where he has been but says that he has been given a bad reputation by organizations who attempt to do the same sort of relief work that he has done.

STATE ASSESSMENT IS TO BE HIGHER THIS YEAR.

County Assessor Stanley F. Brady is at home from Frankfort where he attended a meeting of the Kentucky Tax Commissioner's Association. He brings home the word that this year the assessors of the State will be required to list all property at ninety per cent. of its actual value instead of at 85 per cent. of the value as was done last year. This will make a considerable increase in the total assessment of Mason county.

MANY INSPECT NEW HOMES IN CITY'S NEW ADDITION

Large Number of People at the Property of the Maysville Development Company on Friday Afternoon.

The "first over" of the Maysville Development Company's new addition to Maysville held Friday afternoon on the property was a decided success in every respect and stockholders of the company had an opportunity to see at first hand just exactly what was being done with their money.

The twenty-nine houses are now nearing completion and will soon be ready to offer for rent or sale to the public.

While those attending the inspection Friday had an opportunity to see just exactly how the houses were built, there being houses in most all stages of construction, these visitors could not appreciate the beauty of the new addition. When the houses are all painted, the cement sidewalks laid and the bluegrass lawns in good condition, the appearance of the addition will be improved 100 per cent.

President E. T. Kirk and Director H. J. Cochran made short talks and urged continued co-operation on the part of the stockholders. The Boys' Band concert was as usual very delightful.

AGREEMENT TO BE REACHED ON HARVESTERS' SALARIES

Farmers Fix Prices They Consider Fair and Harvesters Will Meet Next Saturday to Consider Figures.

At a meeting of the Farm Bureau Friday afternoon the following prices were decided upon as fair for the coming harvest season:

Field hands, $3 per day and board; Sackers, $4 per day and board; Stackers $4 per day and board. Shockers, $3 per day and board.

These wages are in proportion to $4.50 to $5.50 paid in towns where laborers furnish their own board.

A meeting of the harvesters will be held at the Farm Bureau building on next Saturday when these prices will be considered and acted upon. If these prices are not acceptable to the harvesters they will get together with the farmers and reach an agreement which will be acceptable to both the farmer and harvester.

STATE REPUBLICANS PLAN SOLID FRONT IN BIG CAMPAIGN

Contests Before State Committee Are Settled at Meeting Held in Louisville — Crane, Elector at Large.

Louisville, June 25. — Contests in the ranks of the Republican party in Kentucky were disposed of by the State Central Committee in preparation for the aggressive campaign to be waged in the State during the coming campaign.

The meeting of the committee was for the purpose of deciding on contests coming up from six counties or certain members of the organization were questioned as to their right to serve.

In the Lee county contest, where two factions were claiming to be the regular committee, the case was passed until July 5, in order to give one of the contending factions time to make further proof as to the regularity of its organization.

Various party leaders spoke in favor of a harmony program and urged that such action be taken as would insure a united front in the campaign to carry Kentucky for Harding and Coolidge as well as all other Republican nominees at the election in November.

Speakers were Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset; Charles Finley, a member of the committee from Williamsburg; Virgil Moore, member of the committee from Madisonville; Judge Morrow of Somerset, and others.

The contest in which there was the greatest interest, due possibly to the prominence of the participants, was in Pulaski county, where Ben Waddell, chairman of one committee, was contesting the seat of another committee headed by J. R. Cook. Lined up on the side of the contestant in this case were Judge Morrow and Ben Waddell together with a score or more prominent Pulaski county Republicans, while Judge Bethurum, Judge Denton, Judge Cooper, railroad commissioner from this district, and others headed the other faction.

Contestants were challenging the right of incumbents to seats on the grounds that the call under which the mass convention was held at which they were elected, had not been properly advertised as directed by the State Central Committee. After hearing the statements by attorneys for both sides, affidavits and witnesses, the committee went into executive session, later giving its decision in favor of the contestants, headed by Mr. Waddell.

The committee accepted the resignation of S. S. Willis, of Ashland, as Republican elector from the State-at-large, and Mitchell Crane, of Jackson, the original Harding man from Kentucky at the Chicago convention, was elected to fill the vacancy. It developed that Mr. Willis is the city attorney of Ashland, which made him ineligible for State elector.

WHAT D'YOU MEAN, BABE?

BABE'S BATTING EYES

Here is strength and helplessness in baseball personified. It shows the mighty "Babe" Ruth of the New York Yanks, home run swatter, who is on his way to a new record, holding in his arms "Babe" Thomas, the infant son of Chet Thomas, catcher for the Cleveland Indians. Thomas and Ruth played together on the Boston Red Sox team, so Ruth looked over Thomas' new son when the Yanks and Indians played in a recent series. Ruth's record last year was 29 home runs—already this year he has passed the 20 mark.

CHILDREN HAVE VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Robertson County Children on Loaded Wagon Have Narrow Escape From Death.

The Mt. Olivet Tribune-Democrat says: "Tuesday morning, at the home of Thomas Miller, of Bridgeville pike, there was a narrow escape from fatal accident on the part of several children. Sometime ago a wagon that had been used in hauling lumber was left standing at the top of a hill, and which was chocked to prevent it from being pushed down the hillside to the hollow below. On the day mentioned, Stanley Montgomery, son of G. H. Montgomery; James Miller, son of Thomas Miller, and Rosa Nell Overbey, daughter of Richard Overbey, got on top of the wagon. The little son of D. A. Miller attempted to get aboard but about this time the wagon started down hill, the chock by some means having been removed. James Miller fell off, a hind wheel of the wagon passing over and badly bruising his arm; Stanley Montgomery made a safe jump, but the little girl held on and escaped without injury. The wagon struck the hollow with great force, driving the tongue four or five feet into the bank and breaking it in two.

TWOCITY PRECINCTS WILL NOT BE DIVIDED IN RE-DISTRICTING

First and Third Wards Will Remain Single Voting Precincts — Other Wards Are Divided Into Two Precincts.

The bi-partisan commission recently appointed by County Judge Purnell to make recommendations in the re-districting of the county for the purpose of caring for the woman vote, met at the court house this morning and went into the matter very thoroughly. It was little trouble for the representatives of the six city wards to reach agreements in dividing those wards but the country precinct committees had much more trouble because of the legal requirement that a voting precinct cannot cross the lines of a magisterial district.

It was found that the First and Third wards, the two smallest city precincts will not have more than the legal number of voters even with the addition of many women voters, but it became necessary to divide the other four wards.

The Second ward was divided by Third street. Those living south of Third street in the Second ward will vote in Precinct A, and those living north of Third street will vote in precinct B.

Plum street was made the dividing line in the Fourth ward. Those living west of Plum street will vote at precinct A, and those living east of Plum street will make up precinct B.

Lexington street divides the Fifth ward. Precinct A being made up of those living west of Lexington street, and precinct B of those living east of Lexington street.

The Sixth ward is divided by Wood street. West of Wood street being A precinct, and east of Wood street being precinct B.

As a complete division of the county precincts had not been made at press time the new county precincts cannot be given but they will be published within thirty days prior to the Presidential election when the changes will be made and the women of Kentucky will vote for the first time.

Why so Particular?

asked a woman recently when we were examining her eyes. "Because failure to be particular and careful may mean more eye-strain and more discomfort instead of the relief and easy vision that result from wearing the right glasses rightly made and fitted."
